And Jill came tumbling after

The dish ran away with the spoon

Sat in a corner, eating a Christmas pie

Along came a spider, who sat down beside her

His wife could eat no lean

Up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky

Who cut off their tails with a carving knife

Had a wife and couldn't keep her

And one for the little boy who lives down the lane

All the kings' horses, and all the kings men

She had so many children she didn't know what to do

Thirteen, fourteen, maids a-courting
